

BIOGRAPHICAL STATEMENT OF SUSAN C. NOYCE

Susan C. Noyce has been a part of the Legal Aid of Southern Nevada team since 2008. As a staff attorney in the Family Justice Project, Susan represents victims of domestic violence and abuse in family law matters which includes obtaining and enforcing protection orders. Susan has also become an expert on jurisdictional matters relating to family law.

Before joining Legal Aid Center, Susan worked as a private attorney representing small business owners and individuals. Her areas of concentration included bankruptcy, family law, estate planning, construction and real property litigation. Susan was also Corporate Counsel for Cascar II LLC, a large trucking and directional drilling company where she was responsible for all legal and contractual matters. Susan currently volunteers as a Truancy Court Judge in the 8th Judicial District Court. Prior to this, Susan volunteered for the Davis County Attorney's Office in the Victim Assistance Program and spent multiple years as a guest speaker in Bountiful Elementary School teaching fourth graders about juries as part of their American government studies.

Susan obtained her J.D. from S.J. Quinney School of Law, University of Utah, Salt Lake City in 1989 and her Bachelor's Degree in Science from the same school in 1983.
