

Child Support Ask-A-Lawyer

Office of the District
Attorney
Child Support Center of Southern Nevada

*1900 E. Flamingo Rd., Suite 100
Las Vegas, Nevada*

Do you have questions about child support? About Nevada child support laws? About paternity? About the District Attorney's Family Support Division (DAFS) and what it does? Do you want to know how to have a successful case with DAFS whether you are the one collecting the child support or paying the support? Would you like to hear directly from a DAFS Deputy District Attorney who works child support cases daily?

Attend a free Child Support Ask-A-Lawyer class held at the Child Support Center of Southern Nevada. Sessions are open to everyone. DAFS, in partnership with Clark County's Family Law Self-Help Center, offers these Ask-A-Lawyer classes to the public the 2nd and 4th Friday of every month (excluding holidays) as a public service. Sessions begin at 2:00 p.m. and go until all attendees have had a chance to ask their questions. Classes are conducted by a DAFS Deputy D.A. in a group setting where attendees can learn from the questions and answers of others.

ADVISORY -- PLEASE READ ME: When important legal rights and responsibilities of yours are at stake, such as with child support matters, you should consult and hire an attorney to represent you. The DAFS representative's responses to your questions are intended only to provide a public informational service and should not be understood by you to be "legal advice" or to create an attorney-client relationship between you and DAFS or its representative.
